

Dr. Kelly Elected as Alternate Delegate

Dr. Janet Kelly, a Family Practitioner in Heber City, was recently elected to the office of alternate delegate by the Utah Academy of Family Physicians during their annual meeting on February 15 at the Salt Lake City Hilton. The UAFP, which is comprised of Family Practitioners in the state of Utah, holds annual elections for six offices. Dr. Kelly is the first female physician to hold an office in the Academy.

As an alternate delegate, she will attend the annual meeting of the American Academy of Family

Physicians which is made up of Family Practitioners from the entire nation. The American Academy of Family Physicians is an organization which represents the broad interests of the specialty of Family Practice with regard to political, social and educational areas. Along with the other elected delegate, Dr. Kelly will be representative for the Family Practitioners in Utah. She will have an opportunity to be present when the national House of Delegates convenes and to voice the concerns brought to her by her colleagues in Utah.
